Passing the baton

Newly appointed leader

Kurt's wife, Barbara, has faithfully stood by her husband's side in ministry since they married in 1972. The Missing Link board of directors felt it wise to now appoint her to oversee the ministry since she knows her husband's heart best.

Let us be your arm extended, reaching out to the lost and hurting. With your prayers and support, we will continue...

- To provide troubled youth and adults with life-changing programs and resources.
- To help sinners truly understand what it means to be born again.
- To see that new believers are discipled and trained for Christian service.
- To teach God's Word to children and youth, steering them away from a life of crime.
